

Art + Museums

Judy Glantzman: "1979–Today," through January 13

The painter's show at Betty Cunningham Gallery is all worn bodies. Glantzman's tireless mark making and worked sculptures of hands tell untold stories of lives lived and lessons learned. In truth, she's only telling one story—her own—and the renderings are a form of self-portraiture. —Paddy Johnson, art expert

Photo courtesy of Betty Cunningham Gallery